Hi Tom,

Thank you so much for your Keynote Presentation, "Three Ways to Really Connect with Online Learners", to kick off our IvyOnline Learning Summit 2026 today (July 16, 2026)!

In our ILS Planning Team chat, the team shared their praise for your presentation the entire time you were presenting. I couldn't say it better than them, so sharing some highlights from their comments:

- "I actually really appreciate that Tom talked to IvyOnline faculty and tailored the presentation to our faculty."
- "The way he incorporated his meetings with our faculty adds a level of authenticity that really helps deliver the message."
- "This is a good session! He is doing a wonderful job and is engaging with the chat in ways I don't often see a keynote speaker do. I also like how he is describing the items that are on the slides."
- "I really like how it's actually tailored to our institutional context and faculty. That makes a huge difference!"

We appreciated the timely, applicable, and thoughtful content of your presentation. Your engagement with our faculty and other attendees in the chat was a really nice as well!

Thank you!
Carmin

P.S. I'll follow up with you once we have our evaluation data ready to share.
